

Joana Alves

“A dream does not become reality through magic. It takes sweat, determination and hard work”

- Determined
- Intelligent
- Honest

Motivations

- As she likes to handle things out with time, she wants to find a place to live as quickly as possible
- She is interested to start a new social life and live new experiences, but always without compromising her study
- She wants to become more independent

Frustrations

- Hates losing time
- Doesn't want to live alone since she is determined to become more social
- Doesn't want to live far away from the college to avoid adding expenses

Joana is a 18 years old hard-working student trying to pursue her dreams of becoming a successful engineer.

She could get into a college close to home but chose one with better education despite having to move out of her parents house.

Now she quickly needs to find a place to live. She would like to find a place with some roommates (max. 2) and don't care about their gender, but since she is looking for a boyfriend, she is interested in a guy roommate.

One thing to consider is the skyrocketing housing prices. She could look for a part-time job but she doesn't want to give up her study time.

She spent her later years focusing on study and therefore did not have a very social life. Being away from home, she hopes to start a new life, but keeping his work habits.
